Legion Auxiliary Will Send Representatives To Patriotic Meeting

Mrs. L. R. Van Patten, president of the Antioch Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will join representatives of the over 800 units in Illinois at the annual Patriotic Conference, sponsored by the Illinois department of the American Legion Auxiliary. Other representatives from Antioch will be Mrs. Alma Harden, Mrs. William Petty and Mrs. Lillian Hand.

Each department conference held throughout the United States is patterned after the National Patriotic conference held recently in Washington, D. C., which was sponsored by over 30 patriotic women's organizations and attended by Illinois officers of the Auxiliary. The programs of the Americanism, national defense and Pan American study committees are especially stressed.

The Chicago conference will be addressed by representatives of the armed forces, political and civic figures, and leaders of the Legion and Auxiliary. A conference luncheon will be held in the Grand Ball room of the Sherman Hotel at noon, when the representatives of the Auxiliary as well as other patriotic organizations will be addressed by Mrs. J. J. Jerabek, of Algoma, Wisconsin, National Vice-President of the Auxiliary. Col. Robert L. Scott, Jr., former member of the famous Flying Tigers and author of "God Is My Co-Pilot," as well as other nationally known speakers will appear on the program, as will the Governors of Girls and Boys State, the mythical government groups for young people sponsored by the Auxiliary and Legion.

100 Hogs Destroyed When Barn Burns at E. J. Lehmann Farm

A large barn and much of its contents including seven sows and their litters of pigs were destroyed by fire in the E. J. Lehmann farm, better known as the Ollie Hook farm south of the village on the Millburn rd., Tuesday morning.

Firemen were called from Antioch and Lake Villa but the fire had such a good start that there was nothing the two departments could do but protect the house and other buildings. Because of the wind direction those buildings were not greatly endangered.

It is believed that the fire started from an electric brooder used for the pigs. The tenant C. Schultz was able to drive many of the hogs out of the burning building, but the fire had such a strong start and burned so rapidly that about a hundred could not be saved. They were purebred Hampshires.

Chief Barnstable of Lake Villa said his estimate of a $10,000 was probably low. The loss includes a tractor and 10 tons of hay and straw.

The fire started about 7 a. m. and could be seen for many miles across country.

Several new pieces used in rescue work have been received recently and they were demonstrated.

A social hour followed and Mrs. Harold E. Cardiff was in charge of refreshments.

The Wilmot church is in the Wisconsin synod which though separate and independent is fraternally associated with the Missouri synod.

Carl Oians, Aged 50, of Grass Lake Dies; Local Legion Member

Carl Oians, 50, a bugler in the navy during World War I died Sunday at his home at Grass Lake.

He had been disabled since the war and had been in poor health for a long time. An heart attack caused unexpected death.

Born in Chicago, Aug. 27, 1897, he lived in that city until 10 years ago, when he moved to Grass Lake. He was a member of the Antioch Legion post No. 748.

Surviving are the wife, Stella, a brother, George, residing in Wisconsin, and a brother Harry, of Chicago.

Servicenter Team To Have Busy Weekend

The coming weekend will be a busy one for the Antioch Servicenter match team by virtue of games scheduled Saturday and Sunday at the local alleys. The opposition on Saturday is the strong Friedle Construction team from Ingleside, and Sunday the Graff Tavern aggregation from Long Lake tangles with Servicenter.

Two previous match games between Servicenter and Friedle's wound up all even, each team winning very heavily on its home alleys; as a result, this "rubber" game has a crucial tinge to it.

Servicenter, after a sensational streak of ten victories, has slumped lately to drop three of its last four matches, the most recent to Pete's Tavern of Grayslake by a 2879 to 2615 count. Folger, Grange and Lill led the victors on counts of 633, 591 and 590. Servicenter was paced by Carney and Kania with 550 and 547.

In a special interview obtained early this week, Bruno and Rudy, co-sponsors of the Servicenter aggregation, indicated confidence that the team is over its slump and would reveal its early season power in the coming games.

Scouts Plan Fair at District Meeting Here, To Go to Benefit Show

Thirty-one boys representing 13 Boy Scout troops in the northwest district of the North Shore council met at the American Legion hall here Monday evening.

Dinner was served to them by the American Legion Auxiliary after which the evening was given over to business and a social good time.

John Noel of Mundelein, served as master of ceremonies. Blue ribbon awards were made to the troops observing house warming or open house during Boy Scout week. Ten boys were recognized for having passed the second stage of their training course.

Discussion of the Libertyville Scout fair on May 1 and the Wayne King benefit program at Winnetka next Wednesday.

The fair at Libertyville will be held in the high school gymnasium. One room will be used for displays of handicraft and the other for booths. Every hour troops will put on skits. They will exemplify work on their various troop projects for which they are seeking merit badges.

Antioch will have three projects. One will be in first aid, a second will deal with metal craft, and the orchestra will play during the fair as a project in music.

Profits from the fair will be used to outfit a hike cabin.

Troop Leader Harold E. Cardiff has tickets for the Wayne King benefit performance at New Trier High school. Preparations are being made to handle a crowd of 4,000. King and his troop will perform without charge and the proceeds will be used to finance the North Shore area work.

Each troop may send a tenderfoot to the event as the guest of the council. The Antioch troop made its selection in a meeting last evening. Selection of Harold Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson, of Felter's subdivision, Harold is a new tenderfoot and will be put through the tenderfoot ceremony at this meeting.

Village Board Still Working on Septic Tank Right-of-Way

A special meeting of the Antioch Village board was held on Tuesday evening, to continue discussion of the proposed right-of-way from Orchard street to the septic tank, where work on the improvement of the disposal plant is to begin soon. It is felt that the urgency on the part of the board to get the matter settled is partly due to the fact that the electric lines and other pipes will have to be replaced when the improvement is made to the plant.

Complete information as to decisions reached, if any, is not available to the public, but according to the best information which could be had, it seems that the plan is not completely worked out, and that it was in an effort to get matter settled to the satisfaction of all concerned, that the meeting was held.

Both he and Mrs. Richards were associated with the Farmers' Line telephone company from the time of its inception until it ceased to do business.

No. Limited Bus Line Seeks Right To Serve Antioch

The Northern Limited Bus line today invited Antioch people who are interested in a speedy commuters service to Chicago to go at its expense to the city tomorrow to appear before the Illinois Commerce commission for the service.

The bus company now operates a line from Fond du Lac, Wis. to Chicago. It passes through Antioch and the drivers estimate the traveling time from the state line to Chicago to be 1 hour and 32 minutes.

In seeking a certificate of convenience from the state commission the bus company asks permission to stop at Antioch, Libertyville and Wheeling. It would provide commuter service morning and evening and a shopper's special during the forenoon and afternoon.

The company will provide free transportation to those who will go to Chicago to show the service is desired and will provide lunch. The buses will be back before the evening meal.

The special bus will leave Reeves drug store at 7:45 a. m. Friday.

Race Looms for Grade Election

With the filing of two more petitions for placing of names on the ballot to be used at the Antioch Grade school election April 10, a real campaign seems to be in store for Antioch community.

Mrs. O. S. Klass, secretary of the board, reports that the petitions of Emil Lubkeman for president and Chas. L. Wertz have been filed this week. These two together with the three previously filed petitions bring the total to five candidates for the three jobs.

Those having filed earlier are Al. Swenson for president and H. E. Cardiff, and William Horton, Jr., for members. Cardiff is the only one who is up for re-election. Mrs. O. S. Klass and Mrs. Roy Kufalk whose terms expire have decided not to run.

Last day for filing is Saturday, March 20, and while it seems unlikely that any others will throw their hats in the ring, there is still plenty of time for several aspirants to get their names on the ballot.

Antioch Checker Pushers Defeated In Match Wednesday

Antioch's checker team, composed of Robt. Runyard, Sr. Walter Darnaby, Roy Kufalk, Jas. Webb, John Jimmerson and Earle Skiff, went down to defeat in a return match with a team from the Waukegan checker club in a match last night at the Methodist church basement.

Four players from Waukegan were on hand, and sparked by a certain Mr. Votruba, gave the locals what was described as a shellacking. Morris Pickus, who was responsible for the match said that although no accurate count of games was kept, that there was no doubt of the winner. He added that the local players had gained a healthy respect for the prowess of Mr. Votruba and the other players, and that no talk of a return match had taken place as yet.

Can We Afford National Defense?

The communist coup d'etat in Czechoslovakia, coupled with Stalin's demands for a "defense" agreement with Finland and mounting totalitarian pressures in France, Italy and other European nations has brought the international situation to its worst point since 1939.

It is clear that those who dislike and envy us abroad respect only one quality in a country—and that quality is military strength. It is not war mongering to say that the United States must maintain a defense establishment far more effective than any we have ever had in peace time so long as the world remains in its present explosive state. That is simply for our survival.

According to those who know best, all branches of our military forces, Army, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard alike, are in a dangerously weak condition. We have sunk, in the space of about two years, from the greatest military power on earth to a third-rate military power.

This was only partially the result of the postwar demobilization. The armed services have been denied requested appropriations for research and development which they consider absolutely vital if they are to keep pace with the Soviet Union, whose army is reported to be still at wartime strength. This has been done, of course, in the name of economy. But while military budgets have been cut, there has been the most flagrant waste in other directions.

As an example, no one can say that socialized government power plants are necessary to the nation—taxed, regulated private industry can provide the service at the lowest practical cost. Yet the billions that we are now spending to operate these plants, and to build new ones, are far in excess of what the armed forces want for basic research. Those billions would help to make the difference between a progressive, prepared armed force, and one which is going downhill. The proposed St. Lawrence Seaway is another example of an incredibly costly public work that, in the view of many experts, is not needed and could not possibly justify itself on economic grounds. And so are various flood control and reclamation projects that, in reality, are a camouflaged form of public power development which simply duplicates existing, adequate facilities.

This is not a political matter. The national defense is the first function of government, regardless of what party is in power. And to say we cannot afford a first rate military establishment at a time when we are wasting untold billions, is to criminally mislead the people.

Economic Highlights

According to news reports, Jim Farley recently forecast the re-election of Mr. Truman on the historical grounds that no President has ever been defeated when employment and the national income were high and times were. The record pretty well bears this out. On the other hand, it may be true that a great many people are confused and worried over the current boom. The atmosphere certainly isn't one of virtually limitless optimism as it was in the roaring twenties. The recent ups-and-downs in the stock and commodity markets resulted in plenty of sweating. And never did the more thoughtful economists show a greater caution in trying to guess what the future will bring.

In any event, it is evident that Mr. Truman has definitely decided upon what might be called a left-of-center policy, with strong New Deal overtones. His major appeals are being made to labor and consumer groups. Even when prices were sliding somewhat, he reiterated his demand for price controls, and illustrated his points with a chart at a press conference. This is said to have caused considerable dissension among his cabinet members, some of whom at least have no faith whatever in another OPA or any reasonable facsimile thereof. But it seems inevitable that the President will go to the country with his program as November nears.

The President has urged that industry, labor and other segments of the country cooperate to lower prices. But he has not talked about the influence that government fiscal policy has on the price structure. This omission has been seized upon by the GOP leaders, principally Senator Taft, who think that government is at the root of much of the inflation. They will campaign for sharply reduced Federal spending, and some kind of a tax reduction plan—unless, of course, some big emergency occurs between now and the end of the year and makes this impossible.

With the exception of rent control, there doesn't seem to be a chance in a thousand that price control will return in the foreseeable future. The Republicans in both House and Senate are pretty much of a mind of this, and they are following their leaders.

It is, of course, essential to Administration hopes that no real slow-down in business occur this year. Widespread unemployment and fear have defeated every President who had to campaign in the face of them in the past, and it took the GOP fourteen years to make anything resembling a comeback after the debacle of 1932. Mr. Truman undoubtedly realizes this. Furthermore, judging by his budget and state of the union messages, he is convinced that the country will be receptive to more public works and more social legislation. Again, the Republicans are pretty much in disagreement.

Mr. Truman's ideas in general are akin to those of the late President Roosevelt. But friend and foe alike agree that there is one vital difference between the two men. Mr. Truman does not possess the almost flawless political timing of his predecessor. He lacks Mr. Roosevelt's undeniable dramatic impact, and his talent for packaging ideas in appealing and memorable phrases. And these qualities, for good or evil, strongly influence any candidate's ability as a vote-getter when the chips are down.

The much-discussed state of the union message is cited as an example of poor Presidential maneuvering. It consisted of a whole series of proposals of which many obviously had no chance of enactment into law. It was, in many places, poorly organized and weakly phrased. Many members of his own party were dismayed by it, and just barely went through the motions of applauding.

The GOP command—with important exceptions—believes that the American people feel that the Administration has gone too far in its aid to Europe program. The effect of European purchasing on prices and markets in this country is being stressed. This does not mean that the Republicans are isolationist. They are not, but they think a workable program is possible at less cost. And in this, they will have considerable support from Democrats.

Most of the polls show that Mr. Truman would win today—but the margin is small. A number of astute political analysts have looked into their crystal balls and come up with declarations that the GOP has at least an even chance. That is what is making this year's race the most interesting in a long time.

SOCIETY EVENTS

C. L. Kutil.....

County fair which he fostered.

Is a charter member of the Illinois Vo-Ag Teachers association and served as president in 1932-33.

A surprise element of the program was the appearance of state officials of the FFA who presented to him the supreme degree of Honorary State Farmer. This award was to be given at the state convention in June but officials decided to take advantage of this occasion to present the award.

Gets Many Fine Gifts

Mr. Kutil received many fine gifts, not the least of which was a fine wrist watch, presented by the school board which sponsored the program.

The first hour of the program was given to entertainment by the Sequoia Music Makers, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Stripe, Waukegan vocalists, Paul Harvey, Waukegan magician, and the Elks barbershop quartet, composed of Charles Mason, Arthur Tindale, Stanley Bush and Pete Jacobs.

As a second part of the program representatives of various organizations, eulogized Mr. Kutil, and told of his achievements. Speakers were: Warren Wells, president of the FFA, and Richard Hartnell, past president and representative of 350 alumni. Kenneth Heuer appeared for the poultry judging team.

Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas presented the Farm Bureau and 4-H Clubs; D. H. Minto, the Lake County Fair association; and W. J. Swayter the Pure Milk association.

Mrs. Kutil Recognized

Mrs. Kutil was not forgotten. Mrs. E. J. McDougall of the Antioch unit, Lake County Home Bureau presented her a bouquet of roses in recognition of her work in the bureau. Mrs. Helen Osmond of the school board also gave her a gift from the board. John W. Matthew, Chapman, Ill., state president of the Vo-Ag Teachers association, and F. Paul Jenkins, St. Charles, sectional chairman, testified to his value of his profession.

County School Superintendent Petty included in his praises for Mr. Kutil his congratulations to the school board and Principal T. R. Birkhead for their thoughtfulness in planning the event.

Herbert R. Damisch, a supervisor in the office of the state superintendent of public instruction; Prof. M. Henderson of the Illinois College of Agriculture; and Prof. J. A. James, director of teacher training at the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture where Mr. Kutil got his training, climaxed the program with their talks.

L. O. Bright, former high school principal, who brought Mr. Kutil to Antioch, sent a recording of congratulations from Lakeland, Fla., which was played to the audience.

Board Shows Appreciation

Walter K. Hills, president of the school board introduced the board members, Ernest Glenn, Mrs. Osmond, Fred Scott and Arthur Bennett and presented Mr. Kutil the board's gift.

Principal T. R. Birkhead, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced visiting vo-ag teachers.

Guests signed a guest book as they went to the cafeteria for luncheon as guests of the school board. A wire recording was made of the entire program.

He's welcome everywhere in Antioch

He's your telephone installer—a fine craftsman, carefully trained, courteous. There are 2,000 of them at Illinois Bell. They've been pretty busy lately.

In the past decade, they've added 801 telephones to the total in service here in Antioch . . . more than doubling the number this city had ten years ago.

Thus, day by day, you're able to call many more people. Your service is gaining in accuracy and dependability. Long distance calls are going through faster. You're getting more for your telephone dollar.

A $250,000,000 improvement program is bringing better telephone service your way. This money is coming from investors who have faith in the future of the telephone business.

All telephone men carry identification. For your protection, ask to see it.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

"WHERE'S MY BABY?"

This flash fire was one of Northern Illinois' worst. Ten families—39 people—had lived where now there were only flame and death.

One of these people was little Rose Brinkman.

Her mother was frantic.

She asked the neighbors.

She asked the policemen.

She asked the firemen.

"Where's my baby?"

"Have you seen the little one—Rose—the baby?"

Then she saw the familiar red and white insignia.

It was a Red Cross worker.

"Have you seen my baby?" She was almost pleading now.

"Your baby's right over there, ma'am," came the reply.

"One of our workers is tending to her in the Red Cross car."

And there, indeed, was little Rose.

The Red Cross had dressed her warmly.

And she was snuggled in a blanket drinking warm milk.

She even smiled a little when her tearful mother reached for her.

Last year the Red Cross brought food, clothes, first aid, and comfort to the victims of fires and disasters throughout Northern Illinois

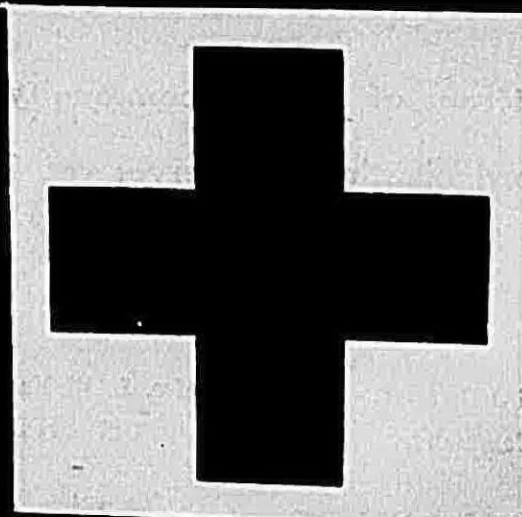

Last year, too, Red Cross chapters in this area helped thousands of veterans with the problems of readjustment, brought cheer to thousands more who are hospitalized in this region. They helped the families of thousands of men still in the service to solve personal problems . . . They certificated over 5000 women from Red Cross nursing classes . . . And they taught more than 32,000 people the fundamentals of swimming and water safety.

For obvious reasons, the names used in this typical case history are fictitious.

So that your Red Cross will continue to be Always there when needed most

The Ham What Am
Hams constitute approximately 19 per cent of the total weight and 29 per cent of the lean meat of the chilled carcasses of hogs weighing 200 pounds. About 29 per cent of the ham and 15 per cent of the energy of the carcasses are in the hams.

Real Pure Race
The one human group which can be considered a "pure" race is probably the Andamanese, who inhabit the Andaman Islands off the coast of Burma. These people have been isolated for a long period and until recently were not in contact with any other race.

Declines in Deaths
A 70 per cent decline has been recorded in deaths due to pneumonia and influenza during the past 10 years.

A lady said she used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at food. She was bloated with gas, headache, constipated. Finally she got ERB-HELP and says she now eats everything in sight and feels like "some other woman." Get ERB-HELP for stomach distress—Reeves Walgren Agency.
